KIS is committed to providing the highest quality academic program and experience for the lowest possible price. Almaty is home to a fairly large international community and we strive to provide the best possible option for families looking for an international school, whether they are international people here working or local people interested in an international education. Therefore, when compared to other schools in Almaty you will find that KIS honestly offers the most affordable price for a truly English-medium education in a community representing more than 20 different nationalities.
